One rainy day, a patient died in the hospital. When the doctor went in the elevator and closed the door. A nurse ran near and the doctor opened the elevator door.

When the nurse went in the elevator, she said, “Thank you.” The elevator went down, but it didn’t stop until it reached B4. The elevator door opened and a man wanted to go in the elevator. The doctor saw the man and closed the door. He didn’t let the man come in.

The nurse asked the doctor, “Why don’t you let the man come in?” The doctor said, “Did you see his ring? It’s the ring from the dead bodies.”

The nurse raised her left hand, looked at the doctor and said “You said this one?”
